ELIZABETH SEEGER
1889 - 1973

Elizabeth Seeger is a small, private, co-educational school. It provides an alternative to traditional forms of high school education. I am now a senior at Elizabeth Seeger, and I've been asked to write a summary of the school and my experiences there. It is an honor for me to do this.

When I first entered Seeger I thought education was a waste of time. My attitude towards learning and teachers was generally bad. I had been attending a public high school and had found that most of my teachers were not interested in whether or not their students learned the material. My years at Elizabeth Seeger have made me feel differently about education, and my mind has been opened.

Seeger offers a great many courses, and this enables the students to develop their varied talents and interests. They offer creative writing, photography, sculpture, music, painting, and many, many other intriguing classes. In fact, they base almost as much importance on these elective courses as they do on the more traditional subjects. Special interests a student may have are never discouraged. Extracurricular activities are very popular. Time can be made available for students who wish to pursue them.

The atmosphere at Elizabeth Seeger is relaxed and familiar. Undue pressure is never exerted too heavily upon a student, which enables him to develop a sense of self-discipline and figure out his own working schedule. The student ultimately realizes that the decision to work is his own. The student-teacher ratio is quite small, and this gives the student a chance to receive personal attention if it is needed. A student is also given a sense of individuality as opposed to the feeling of being lost in a sea of students without any identity.

My experience at Elizabeth Seeger has made me feel that education is vitally important and often enjoyable. I began writing here, and I've even learned to complete a short story. I've made the decision to go to college and follow up on my interest in writing. I've had many wonderful relationships with students and teachers and have learned many things from them all. I wish to express my gratitude toward Carole Losee, Tony O'Keefe and the rest of the faculty at Seeger for opening my mind to so many great things. My special thanks go to J.S. Russell for inspiring me to write and pointing out all my grammatical errors. Thank you, Elizabeth Seeger. I could never have done it as well without you.

ELIZABETH SEEGER ATHLETICS

Last year, Elizabeth Seeger School formed its first inter-scholastic basketball team. Our record was 3-6, which is more than respectable for a first-year team. This year, our school has entered the Independent School Athletic League (I.S.A.L.) and have added soccer and softball to our program. Under the tutelage of Josh Russell and Art Comolli, our soccer team has shown real improvement, winning two out of our last three games.

Our athletic program has given boys and girls the opportunity to participate in competitive physical activity. It is worth noting that a full soccer team involves one-quarter of the school population.

This year's basketball team has the potential to be very good, but the emphasis has always been on fun and sportsmanship. Our main goal is to keep more students involved in school activities, and towards this end, we have been successful. We can only hope for the continued participation of students, parents, and faculty.

. . .Well it's another good-bye to another good friend. . .
Love Robbie

"Green, green, I want you green green the wind, green the boughs.
The ships upon the ocean seen
The horses on the hills that browse.

Upon her balcony she stands green her flesh and green her tresses
In her eyes chill gleams.

Green, green I want you green
While the gypsy moon beam plays Things at her are gazing keenly But she cannot meet their gaze."

—Fredrico Garcia Lorca

My 3 years in N.Y. were the best I had. My 2 years in Seeger were memorable. Basketball and soccer were fun. I'm always going to remember Mark and Dario and the good times we had. Peace–

"As far as my eyes can see
There are shadows approaching me and to those I left behind I wanted you to know you've always shared my deepest thoughts
you follow where I go and oh, when I'm old and wise
Bitter words mean little to me Autumn winds will blow right through me
and someday in the mist of time
When they ask me if I knew you I'd smile and say you were a friend of mine and the sadness would be lifted from my eyes
oh when I'm old and wise
As far as my eyes can see
there are shadows surrounding me and to those I leave behind I want you all to know you've always shared my darkest hours
I'll miss you when I go
And oh, when I'm old and wise heavy words that tossed and blew me
like autumn wind will blow right
through me
and someday in the mist of time
when they ask you if you knew me remember that you were a friend of mine
as the final curtain falls before my eyes
oh when I'm old and wise

HER

I know a woman who I ponder all day
And slowly wait my life away.
When she is happy the days are bright
The happiness lasts through the night
Her beauty lay beyond her face
But even that bears no disgrace.
Her body is the finest in the land,
And her love I demand!
Her skin is always fair and the sun
Paints her dark blonde hair.
Her deep brown eyes are my demise
I look right in and see no lies.
This truth is bright it hurts my eyes.
This love for her I know is true
So beautiful woman let me intertwine With you.

THE AMERICAN TRUCKER

Trucks they drain
The jellybrains
Driving throughout the state
They only stop to take a drop
Of coffee that they hate.

Union 76s are my home Where I condone the Eating of burritos
I once knew poetry and writings
Of the past, but all I know now
Is the sound of teeth grinding On teeth and the gears turning beneath. It is a "wasteland" out There as I constantly stare at That old yellow line I debate.
Western songs fill my mind and The road makes me blind as I Travel from state to state.
I've done pills and booze to Make me snooze at irregular Hours of the day. The new boots Are nice but they will never suffice
The routine dread that rots
My soul day by day.
